Things began over the summer. Student council met to discuss a new proposal, the honor code, and a leadership seminar was held for administrators and Department Heads in coordination with Country Day. Then the seniors got together to fix up the senior room, painting everyone's name on the wall as a gesture of the class' unity. And finally, Mrs. Critchlow finished working out the last student's schedule. A proposal, a seminar, a gesture and a schedule all signs of the changes to come. Many of these changes have been proposed by Mrs. Gilbert and the administration, but it is the enthusiasm of the students which is making them successful. Having classes four times a week instead of five is making a decided impact on the student body. Designed to provide time for activities and other extra-curriculars to meet during school, it has also meant that more independent work is demanded from the students. Mrs. Gilbert and Dr. Johnson, the headmaster at Country Day, have put into effect a program for increased coordination. Mrs. Gilbert sees "opportunity" as the prime benefit: opportunities for learning, for new experiences, and for different perspectives. The honor code is an example of the commitment which the student body is showing this year. The students themselves proposed and instituted the honor code which involves signing a pledge after every test. By refusing to condone those who lie, cheat or steal, the students are demonstrating a serious commitment to integrity. The enthusiasm of the students is further evidence of this sense of involvement. There is a trend towards activism as opposed to apathy which has resulted in more participation, and more school spirit. The faculty shows their support not just by giving time to their classes, but by sponsoring and attending the many activities. Mrs. Gilbert's departure means that many more changes lie ahead. Both the students and faculty will need to continue to be flexible, and to accept these changes with the same enthusiasm and the same dedication which they have shown this year.

VANITY FAIR
I LOVE NY

These were words which someone shared with me several years ago and which I have not forgotten. I wish to share them with you now and hope that you will not forget them.

> I believe that a man must learn to live without these consolations called "religions," which his own intelligence by now has surely told him to belong to the childhood of the race. Philosophy can give us nothing permanent to believe in either, for it is too rich in answers— each cancelling out the rest. The quest for "meaning" is fordoomed. Human life "means" nothing. But that is not to say that it is not worth living. What does a Debussy Arabesque "mean?" Or a rainbow? Or a rose? Man delights in all of these, knowing himself to be no more: a wisp of music and a haze of dreams dissolved against the sun. Man has only his own two feet to stand on. His own human "Trinity" to see him through. Reason, Courae and Grace. And the first, plus the second, equals the third.
>
> -Peter DeVries
> The Blood of the Lamb

And these are words I have read since and which I give to you to carry until you truly know their meaning.

> . . .in the last analysis, the indivdual person is responsible for living his own life for "findin himself." If he persists in shifting his responsibility to somebody else, he fails to find out the meaning of his own existence.
> -Thomas Merton

> Personhood . . . is a right . . . to be what we are even if what we are is not compatible with what we have learned to be. We have a right to choose our own selves even if that self is different from the selves of others. We have a right to feel as we do even if those feelings are frowned upon by others . . . It does mean that we have a right to choose, develop and live . . . without apology.

FOCUS ON STUDENTS

School itself is pretty routine. We attend the same classes day after day, test after test. Even activities are routine, on the varsities it's practice after practice, for Diary, Greenleaves and Chronicle it's one deadline after another, and for the choirs it's singing the same songs over and over. But this year the 600 students who attend Mary I are finding things more than a little different.

For the first time classes are held only four times a week. This new schedule means that students have more free time so they are given more responsibility. "I do give my students more to do at night to make up for the lost class," says Dr Spencer, "but I'm also finding that they are accepting the challenge and working harder."

Students have taken responsibility for their own integrity by instituting the Honor Code. By signing the Honor Code they are refusing to ignore or condone those who lie, cheat or steal. The council, under the leadership of Virginia Hanses, has put a great deal of hard work into writing the code and introducing it to the students. The Council has the further obligation to deal with those who do not abide by the code. Virginia makes it clear, though, that the Honor Code is not meant to be a punishment, it is a responsibility which benefits the whole body.

Increased coordination is another major change. There are 112 students from both Mary I and C D S involved in coordinate classes. Mrs Mathis, who teaches Economics, feels that the boys are an invaluable addition to her class. "They add a different viewpoint, a different perspective, which is very important." Most of the student body has responded favorably to coordination although there are some traditionalists who object, upset that increased coordination may be "too great" a change. Whatever the objections, from an academic standpoint the increased number of available classes, a result of coordination, is an undeniably positive change for both schools.

The Seniors are discovering that their last year involves numerous and varied responsibilities. Their obligations begin at the end of summer and continue until graduation. It all starts in early September when the Senior class gives an orientation program for the Freshmen class. Activity heads explain to the Freshmen all the activities in which the girls can become involved with. After touring the Upper school and meeting their advisers, Freshmen and Seniors go to a luncheon at Mrs. Gilbert's house. It is a good chance for the Seniors and little sisters to tell of their various activities over the summer. The next event on the Senior's agenda is their Halloween Chapel, this year's title, "The Night Before Halloween . . . " The Seniors put together and perform the skit for the whole school. Afterwards all are invited to the forbidden territory of the newly decorated and carpeted Senior room for some trick or treats. The Seniors then, in early Nov., anxiously venture on to their annual Retreat, which is two days and one night at Babler State Park and Greensfelder Park. The retreat involves seminars led by Chris Loving on relating with each other in our own worlds and "pie shifts." With the help of late night dancing, old flics and the obstacle course at the end, all the girls got to know themselves and each other better. The trip gives the class a good chance to become more unified. Along with the selling of donuts to provide money for Graduation and the Class Gift the class gives parties throughout the year. Christmas is the time when many parties are given. There is one for the 5th grade with presents from Santa himself. A Christmas breakfast is given to the Little Sisters. The maintenance also receives an assortment of goodies the last week before vacation in appreciation for their service throughout the class' years at MI. Another part of the Senior year is to host an AFS student. The seniors are very honored to have Lizzie Burcham from Australia as a member of the class of '83. She is a wonderful addition! After the finishing of College applications and the end of first semester the Seniors go into second semester with the chance to enjoy what is left of their final year at MI. Some of the exciting and fun things which take place are; Spring break, Senior skip day, May Day, Class Day, Awards Day, Cry Day, and most exciting, yet sad, GRADUATION! The class of '83 has a variety of girls each contributing something special to make us all apart of whole. United, we stand, Divided, we fall.

MY COUNTRY

I love a sunburnt country.
A land of sweeping plains.
Of ragged mountain ranges.
Of droughts and flooding rains
I love her far horizons.
I love her jewel-sea.
Her beauty and her terror-
The wide brown land for me!

Core of my heart, my country!
Land of the rainbow gold.
For flood and fire and famine.
She pays us back threefold
Over the thirsty paddocks,
Watch, after many days,
The filmy veil of greeness
That thickens as we gaze

An opal-hearted country.
A willful, lavish land-
All you who have not loved her,
You will not understand
Though earth holds many splendours,
Wherever I may die,
I know to what brown country
My homing thoughts will fly

OLD GUARD

These seniors were fortunate enough to have spent all thirteen years of their secondary school career at Mary Institute. They began as little four and five year olds in kindergarten and stayed until their final senior year of high school graduation in 1983. It all adds up to a group of eight distinguished girls called OLD GUARD!

Halloween at Mary Institute with tradition of the Beasles in costume parading throughout the school.

Jobie Meyer has second thoughts about playing on the Seventh and Eighth grade basketball team.

"Oh, Please don't take our picture!" says a shy Margee Mauze and Chrissy Simon.

A couple of Beasles pop out of their woodwork shop class to catch a click of the camera.

"This is good stuff" says the Einsteins of Seventh Grade.

FOCUS ON UNDER CLASSMEN

Underclassmen this year have educated, entertained, delighted and informed each other, both through traditional events such as May Day and the Christmas Program and through new Activities such as the Student Council sponsored Barbecue in the Fall and the Kris Kringle parties in December. These events all involved several classes and therefore helped to boost school spirit and a sense of Community which are important factors in school life. Many of this year's projects have been Student Council related. The Barbecue was only one example of the events which Student Council has organized. The Wolf Walk involved participants from Middle and Upper school. As did the Kris Kringle parties. A Blood Drive in February along with a coordinated Student Faculty Basketball game and a Pizza Eating Contest in March involved student participation. The proceeds of all went to charity, thus giving the girls a chance to participate in something to help their Community outside of school life.

ELEVENTH GRADE

The Junior class has participated in many activities this year. Academically, they have started to prepare for college by writing their theses, taking the S.A.T.'s and meeting with Mr. Llufrio and Miss Walz. Juniors raised money by means of the Summer Opportunities Fair on January 29th and two mixers for the Middle School. If you're looking for the Juniors on Wednesdays, look behind the pile of bagels in the Rec Room, and on Saturdays during the football season, just look on the sidelines. May Day was an important part of the Spring along with the excitement of kidnapping their little sisters. The Juniors have also been more involved in activities within the Mary I. community, including Kris Kringles with the sixth grade and the retreat which took place in April. Prom, the Junior class' most important project, was "launched" in the Spring and remained was the main concern of Class President Liz Hardesty, Vice-President Heather Dunaway, Secretary Jennifer Moon, and Treasurer Kate Rivinus.

This was a fine year for the sophmores. The new leaders of the class were Becky Penniman as President, Grace Parks as Vice President, Liz Hanaway was the Treasurer, Amy McFarland the Secretary, and the two Student Council members were Beth Silverberg, and Georgette Gaskin. The class meetings were run smoothly and they accomplished many things. For example, their main goal was to raise money for the Prom and they did so through bake-sales. Their charity project was a most enlightening one. Instead of donating money, they decided to give of themselves. On December 19th they sang at Bethagesada Retirement Home. The annual Father-Daughter Dinner was a huge success. The presentation of the Class Rings was a memorable moment for all.

Our Day was a fun-filled day for all. Everyone had a great time canoeing down a beautful river.

All in all, the sophmore class enjoyed the year thoroughly, and can look forward to many more.

The new Freshmen finally made it through their first year of Upper School. Being such an enthusiastic class, they added much to the school community. The leaders of the class were energetic, and wanted to get a lot of things accomplished. They certainly did a fantastic job with Sarah James as president, Alicia McDonnell as vice president, Jane Arnold as treasurer, and Lisa Rich as secretary. The class meetings were led well, and their goals were achieved with ease. The Car Wash held in the fall was such a success, that they decided to have one again in the spring. Halloween was not only loads of fun for everyone, but also profitable for the Freshmen class that collected money from the costume-wearers. Every Monday the Freshmen sold Ding-Dongs, Twinkies, and other goodies. For fun, they hosted a class Valentine's Day dance. They invited the cuties from their class, as well as a few members of other classes. Since this class is so wealthy, the Sophmores can expect a whopper of a prom. Altogether, the school year, 1982-1983, proved to be a very successful one for all of the Freshmen. Good luck in the years to come!

EIGHTH GRADE

As the seniors of the Middle School, the eighth grade really has enjoyed this year. The traditional trip to Kampsville created new friendships and unified the class. In order to show their appreciation to the teachers, a tea was held in their honor. The Class of 1987 was also involved in community projects such as a visit to the St. Agnes Retirement Home. Dances and bingoes were held to raise money for the class fund. A visit to the planetarium with the Science Department aided in enhancing the students' understanding of the course. The class officers are: Leslie Armstrong as the president, Alison Roberts as the vice-president, Michelle Leith as the secretary, and Carey Rich as the treasurer. This class has contributed a great deal to the Middle School and is looking forward to becoming part of the Upper School.

SEVENTH GRADE

The class of 1988 has been very active this year, developing their Academic and social careers. The seventh graders have been expanding their horizons through many field trips, especially History. The trips included a visit to Jefferson City to view the State Government in action, see the play, Churchill and see the movie Let Freedom Ring. Along with all their studies in History, a Journalism class was added to their schedule. The Seventh grade were also involved with many various Activities. The class greatly enjoyed the Barbecue with CDS. Other highlights were their many dances this year. One was sponsored by the Eleventh Grade for most of the private schools in the area. One new activity for the girls this year was a Basketball team coached by some of the girls' fathers. This will give the girls needed experience when they play in the Upper school. All together the Seventh Grade learned many new things and had a fun time doing it!

SIXTH GRADE

This year's sixth grade had an enjoyable year. The class of '89 began the year with a picnic for their fathers. Many faculty members were invited so that the fathers could meet their daughters teachers. It was a great time for all! The girls learned many new things this year. One new area they studied was Nutrition. They learned all about what foods are good for you and what foods are bad. Along with their studies they took a trip to the grocery store. There, they learned more about the value of Nutrition. "Now I know what Mom does when she goes to the grocery store!" says sixth grader Carter Walker. While the faculty was at school on Wednesday, January 19, the sixth graders were at the Saints Roller Rink, having a good time with their class of boys at CDS. The sixth grade had a year full of learning and fun.

The first year in the Middle School has been very productive for the class of 1990. In Social Studies they studied Egypt. They saw slides and each wrote a report on what they learned. They also studied the principal religions of the world. They learned about ancient Greek and Roman culture and dramatized certain Greek and Roman myths. Their school year was not all work and no play, however. They were active members of such activities such as Glee Club and Middle School Dance Club.

ALL YEAR LONG

The class of 1991 has had a busy year, full of work as well as fun and excitement Throughout the year the fourth graders collected tab tops Their goal was to reach one million tops This project served as a way to help show and better explain place value to the students. The fourth graders had the opportunity to begin the new economic program for the Beasley School This program was designed for the whole school and added to the expanding curriculum this year In addition to economics, the fourth graders participated in a computer class This class was just as interesting as it was educational

One especially exciting event stands out in the minds of all the fourth graders Both classes studied weather this year in science, and as a special treat, meteorologist Ron Yaros, from channel two spoke with the students After their lecture, the fourth grade was lucky enough to be filmed with Ron Yaros for a channel two weather commercial The fourth grade science classes also appeared on cable T.V this year The class of 1991 certainly had a wonderful last year at Beasley School

THIRD GRADE

Top: G. Cabal, W. Overton, H. Baur, C. Horan, C. Day, M. Mueller, E. Hamilton, E. Pieroni, E. Marshall. Bottom: A. Bonacorsi, C. Noel, M. Lane, E. Nau, J. Stivers, S. Rao, L. Nussbaum, K. Ballal, E. McKenzie.

The third grade class has spent a great year! They look forward to the completion of this year, because upon entering the fourth grade they will become the "seniors" of the Ronald S. Beaseley School. This year they visited the Globe Democrat which completed a study on newspapers and how they are put together. They also headed an excursion to the Saint Louis Zoo where they visited animals from guinea pigs and snakes to elephants and giraffes. To top the year off, the third grade took a new course in Basic Computer Language which taught them how to use and write computer programs. The Class of 1992 is a very responsible class. They hold prominant positions such as board monitor, paper monitor, line leader, and messanger. They have been encouraged to participate in plays and to act out stories. This idea was stimulated by a visit from Ovis Freedom. It has truely been an exciting and adventurous year for the third grade. New projects, field trips, and special activities aided in making this year terrific!

The Second Grade with teachers, Miss McNamara and Mrs. Unser had a super year! Of the many exciting activities the Second graders did this year, one of the favorites was "health and Nutrition". Sophya Qureshi and Gregory Suden showed their enthusiasm for making healthy milkshakes to stone soup by saying, "It's tasty" and "It was easy". As in the past years, these Beasles have made trips to Shaw's Garden in the spring, to the Museum of Natural History to study the Eskimos of Alaska, and have made aboriginal tools out of clay. All in all, these young students have greatly enjoyed this year in the second grade.

It has been a fun filled, exciting year for the first grade. Their biggest accomplishment was learning how to read. Most of them thought it was very difficult, but being guided by their teachers, Mrs. Montgomery and Mrs. Nord, the challenge was a success. Their school day was very busy, but when recess time rolled around, they were eager to get out and play. Swings and playing on the new playground were two popular things to do, but when asked what the best thing was to do, "girls chase the boys" was definetly the winner. Overall, this fun bunch of first graders experienced a year of learning and growing.

This years kindergarden, class of '95, is having a lot of fun in their new room. The former mini-gym in R.B.S. has been converted to two new, carpeted and large rooms for the kindergarden. Besides physical changes, the kindergarden classes have changed too. They take creative dramatics and economics in addition to their basic math and reading. They also have an Apple Computer and have a lot of new programs for it. During January they worked on their Science Fair project that they entered in the fair, which took place in February. When several students were asked what they best liked about kindergarden, we received replys like "my teacher" and "the computer". When one student was asked what his favorite part of the day was, he answered "recess" and continued to add "gym and free play too!"

The faculty and administration are showing remarkable flexibility in meeting the challenges posed by the various changes. Coordination and the new schedule are both policies which have been established by the administration and which are being instituted by the faculty.

The faculty is for the most part enthusiastic about increased coordination. Many are pleased with the greater number of available classes, seeing this as further learning opportunities for the students. The faculty are themselves becoming "coordinated". Many teachers, especially Department Heads, have put in a lot of time meeting with the Country Day faculty, trying to arrive at complementary curriculums. One such meeting was held over the summer. Department Heads and some members of the administration also met for a leadership seminar.

The schedule had been changed in an effort both to improve it and to coordinate it with Country Day's. Classes start at 8:00 in the morning and meet only four times a week. The free time which is a result allows activities and other extra-curriculars to meet during school. For the faculty this has meant revamping their lesson plans to accomodate less class time; however it is a change which many appear to like.

One of the underlying objectives behind all of the changes this year is Mrs. Gilbert's desire for better communication which is shared by nearly every member of the school community. The fact that both the students and faculty are in a period of adjustment makes this objective more difficult to obtain, but with this goal in mind both the students and faculty are working even harder to create an atmosphere which is busy, productive, and positive.

Dear Class of 1983,

You and I are leaving Mary Institute together, each completing one phase of our lives and beginning another. The learning and the friendships which we have shared will be with us always. We are constant in each others' lives through the steadfastness of this School which has offered opportunities and encouragement to become individuals who are separate and yet connected by the bonds of mutual respect and affection. My greatest hope is that you, members of the class of 1983, carry your sturdy belief in yourselves and your optimism for the future to whatever opportunities are ahead for you...and that you remember your days at Mary Institute with commitment to and appreciation for the people, the integrity and the education that flourish here.

My very best wishes for success and happiness to each and everyone of you.

Affectionately,

Edes Gilbert

The Administration has been at the forefront of the changes M.I. has undergone. Molly Strassner continued to Head the U.S., but both M.S. and R.B.S. have new administrators. Arlene Horner left her position as assistant to Head of U.S. In her new position she oversaw curriculum changes in both History and English. Oliver Quayle came to M.I. as Head of R.B.S. from Riverdale Country Day School in New York. The Business Office, too, has undergone great changes. Sorrel Paskin has become the manager of M.I. and CDS financial affairs, coming to us from the Cambridge School in Weston, Mass. Carol Sacher has completed her eighth year and applications for M.I. have increased to an all time high. The joint Development Office continues to be headed by Jeremy Jones. Under the able leadership of these administrators, M.I. will certainly continue to thrive and grow.

Although the year has been dominated by change, the school continues to run smoothly. Much of the credit for this amazing feat is due to the administrative staff. Anne Watt joined the administration with the primary responsibility for testing and admissions of Beasley applicants. Nell Critchlow has become our resident scheduling genius, coordinating the new schedule which provides for classes to meet 4 days a week.

HISTORY / CLASSICS

Change has been a key word at M.I. The History department is no exception. Beginning with the 6th grade, there is a new section on China. The 7th grade has initiated a survey course in U.S. History. Ancient and Medievil Europe is studied in the 8th grade. Next year the 9th grade will have a choice of whether or not they would like to study Early Modern European History. The 10th grade History course of European History from the Rennaisance until the present is required. The department plans to increase the 12th grade electives. The History department feels that on account of these changes, the students will become more involved in the classes. This will increase the options for those who wish to expand their knowledge of the past. Hopefully as a result of these changes, the students will be able to work more on their own and think for themselves.

The Classics department continues to offer Latin to those in grades six through twelve. For the first time the 12th grade program is at the A.P. level and is also offered to Country Day. Mr. Donald Wilson was added this year as a part-time teacher in Middle and Upper Schools. He is well qualified for the position, having received his Masters Degree in Classics at Columbia University. His prior experience includes eight years of teaching at the Friends Seminar in New York City. Mr. Llufrio describes Mary Institute's participation in the St. Louis Latin Day program as "the highlight of the department's efforts to work with classic's teachers in the Metropolitan area." To all of the department's interested, involved Latin scholars, Dr. Biggs, Ms. Shepley, Mr. Wilson and Mr. Llufrio would like to say "Gratias!".

The English department set up new and interesting programs such as an Arts Festival and coordinated English poetry readings by Washington University poet, Donald Finkel. In addition, the 5th, 7th, and 8th grade classes each have new teachers. Mrs. Shepley, who formerly taught in the M.S. is now a part of the U.S. English staff. Mrs. Gould and Dr. Spencer began teaching in the 8th grade, while Mrs. Ferris taught the 7th grade. Mr. Dlugosch was involved with an exchange program. He left M.I. 2nd semester when he and Christopher Gates from Australia exchanged classes and homes. Each senior English class was coordinated, which proved to be very enlightening to both the students and the teachers of M.I. and CDS. The required research units are offered in the 8th grade and 11th grade. Finally, music and opera have been incorporated into the honor's reading units.

Many innovative ideas have been brought to the Language department under the new leadership of Paulette York. Hannah Langsam joined the department as a full-time teacher and both French and Spanish students are using new texts. A modernized language lab will be constructed as a result of the recent acquisition of funds. The department has now acquired a Foreign Language office, containing information, brochures and posters from all over the world. In the Fall, French students attended The Repertory Theater's production of "Tartuffe" by Molière. In the Spring, an essay contest in both French and Spanish was held under John Houser's direction. In addition to this contest, several U.S. linquists participated in the American Association of Teachers of French's annual French contest and the essay contest sponsored by the Alliance Francaise of St. Louis.

The new schedule has made the Math department subject to many changes. Lynn Kalcic of the U.S. Math department notes that she teaches more classes as a result. A Math Club was established this year. Along with the new Math Club, a tutorial system has been set up. Students in U.S. Math classes volunteered their time to help classmates in their weak areas. The outstanding mathmeticians took time to participate in various area contests held. Margaret Mathis taught her Economics class that proved to be popular with the coordinate students. Although busy with her position as director of Admissions and Financial aid, Carol Sacher found time to teach a Geometry class. The M.S. Math department continued to create geniouses through their challenge program. The Math departments of both Middle and Upper schools have had a very successful year.

The Computer program at Mary Institute has continued to expand under the supervision of Joan Geppert and Harry Lykens. Computer literacy was taught to many U.S. math students. The Apple Computers have been utilized to help them with their work. A Fortran class was offered as a coordinate course for the juniors and seniors. In addition, a new course in Basic was taught as an elective to the 10th, 11th, and 12th grades. An introduction to Basic was covered during the first semester class in which fundamentals of programming and using a word processor were studied. A second semester class in basic allowed the veterans of the first semester class to do individual research in order to obtain further comprehension of the language. The progressive changes in the Computer department will continue in the future.

Changes in the schedule, teacher training and a revised curriculum are all essential to the strenghtening of the Science Department. The 7th grade annual trip to Camp Wyman was changed to the last week in April in order to take advantage of the spring flowers, insects and special pond and stream organisms. The project was also supplemented with field trips to Shaw's Garden. The 8th grade science curriculum was changed slightly, now preparing the students for U.S. science by teaching Physics concepts and Chemistry. The traditional Freshman survey course, including a semester of Biology and a semester of Chemistry and Physics was offered as a coordinate class, with a greater number of CDS boys enrolled. The schedule with double periods once a week now allows students to perform actual labs.

M.I. has undergone great change, and the library has been no exception. The U.S. library has a new periodical display and storage unit which Lucy Maas describes as "compact, attractive and easy to use". Both U.S. and M.S. libraries have benefited greatly by the annual Book Fair. The fine system continues to torment forgetful students, but it is useful as it supplies additional revenue to purchase books.

As in the past, the Music department continued many special events: from Choir's Christmas performance and M. S. Thanksgiving Celebration through the R.B.S. Chorus' carolling excursions. M.S. and R.B.S. classes continued the study of music, while in the U.S. Music History and Theory are offered to fulfill the Fine Arts requirement. R.B.S. enjoyed a new art room. M.S. initated a program at the Art Museum. In coordination with the existing Challenge program.

The Drama department presented three successful plays during the year and the enthusiasm seems to have carried into the classroom. 8th and 9th grades participated in an exciting and innovative speech class. R.B.S. students spent one period a week in Creative Drama. In addition to these new courses, M.I. welcomed Mr. Salamone who co-sponsored playworkers and serves as both teacher and technical director.

Grade 3

The Beasley school has undergone many exciting changes. The walls are colorfully painted and there are two magnificient new kindergarten rooms. They are located where the mini-gym was. Now the Beasles share the big gym in the Upper School. Oliver Quayle became the head of the Beasley School. He came to M.I. from the Riverdale Country Day School in New York City. He said it has been quite a change for him, but he is adjusting quickly. Another new face in the Beasley faculty is that of Christina Boudoures, the new shop teacher. Before coming to Beasley she taught in the Art department at Clayton High School and she worked at The Frame Factory. She has brought many fascinating new ideas with her. The shop program is more structured this year. With all of the enthusiasm and exciting changes in the Beasley School, it has been a fantastic year.

DANCE/PE

The P.E. department has undergone some exciting changes. The Beasles have moved to the big M.I. gym and are taught by all of the teachers. Due to an extended lunch period, an intramural program for M.S. began with class competition in soccer, field hockey, and kickball. The faculty was challenged by grade 8 to an exciting field hockey match. The department held a fun-filled Beasley field day in Spring.

Under the instruction of Mrs. Beisman and Miss Walz the Beasles have continued in the study of creative movement. The department assisted the R.B.S. Chorus with special performances. M.S. maintained a regular dance program during the year. The M.S. Dance Club not only had thirty-eight avid members, but for the first time after school practices were initiated. The biggest change, however, came in the coordinate classes of U.S.

FOCUS ON SUMMER

MEDIA WORKSHOPS

Does this yearbook appear more organized, more professional than previous Chronicles? If so, it's due to the dedicated staff who, in early June traveled to the University of Missouri. Much to their surprise, the girls soon learned that the Summer Media Workshop was not to be all fun, but instead a week of hard work. The group of six editors from Mary I. arrived at the dorm steps with luggage, food, fans, typewriters and old yearbooks in hand, and in excess, prepared to meet any challenges. The girls soon came to the realization that their journalistic skills were lacking. Still, they proceeded with a positive attitude, attending seminars and classes all day and at night frantically attempting to complete homework assignments at 2:00 a.m. while talking on the phone and consuming massive quantities of Tab and pizza. The week spent at Mizzou, although demanding, was not all work. The MI/CDS delegation certainly made its mark on Columbia. Meals provided entertainment as did the punk dance which the group enthusiastically attended. Skaggs Thrift City provided outfits, chains, dye and shaving creme for the hair, the shaving creme later being used in a completely inappropriate manner. The group geared up for the final event of the week-long stay, the Talent Show. Three of the acts were comprised of MI/CDS students and, despite the fact that the audience was unreceptive to "preppy" humor, enthusiasm prevailed and the evening was a success. The MI/CDS delegation will most certainly be remembered for their contribution to the workshop, not only for providing a constant source of humor but, also for their enthusiasm, dedication and perserverance.

It's not every day that 300 high school students from all over Missouri and Illinois congregate in Quincy, Illinois to enjoy a fun-filled "labor camp" infamous for its unair conditioned dorms and hideous food. But, on June 27, these students, including 10 from Mary I., stepped off buses and out of cars to be enlightened to certain yearbook terminology and techniques, throughout the 3 day/2 night (all night) yearbook sessions. Highlights of the trip included certain C.D.S. "yearbookers", also attending the workshop, who enjoyed the very recently converted coed facilities, the wiffledome, Tower of Pizza runs, and the disco night. More educational aspects of the weekend included numerous interesting slide shows, with Bob Berschbeck's unforgettable Super Show being the grand finale. Lectures on layout, copy, and other yearbook functions completed the weekend.

V.P. FAIR

The spirit of excitement electrifies the fairgrounds at the close of the annual V.P. Fair.

The Fourth of July brings festivities all over America, but St. Louis has its own special way of celebrating the day. 1981 brought the first Veiled Prophet Fair, and it was so successful that it became a tradition. The very high temperatures and immense crowds didn't phase the 3.75 million people who attended the three day fair. Among the many attractions offered during the celebration, the Veiled Prophet parade, the fire works, and the concerts were the most popular events. An "international village" provided a little culture, with food from foreign lands and performances by different groups including the Mary Institute and Country Day Russian dancers. Other contributions to the fair by members of the Mary Institute community included Mr. Handler's lemonade stand, staffed by several Mary Institutes students and graduates. For all those who participated, the V.P. Fair was a great success.

Special entertainment all the way from Egypt!

Can you boast of having met someone from Greece, Iceland or Norway? Students that participated in the AFS Bus Stop trip this summer surely can. In early July, soon after the festivities of the V.P. Fair, several Mary I. and CDS families hosted AFS students who had spent the past year with families in Colorado and Wyoming on their bus journey across the U.S., their final destination being their respective countries. The AFSers arrived in St. Louis on July 5, were met by their individual families. After the first evening, swimming parties evolved every night, giving everyone a chance to get to know each other. After their five day visit which was full of parties and tours of St. Louis, the AFS students said goodbye to their new-found friends from Mary I. and CDS and continued on their trek, stopping next in Ohio. All those involved in the visit were very positive about their experience. Not only did the Bus Stop trip promote wide-spread interest in the MI/CDS chapters of AFS but it also resulted in unique friendships between the host families and AFS students from all over the world.

ASSIST

Several changes marked the 1982 Summer Assist Program. An all new curriculum and a new head, as well as an increased enrollment, made the summer an exciting experience for everyone involved. Mr. Handler, this year's director, divided the morning into three, hour long periods. During the first two, the students divided up into groups and went to classes. These classes, taught by professionals (most of whom were Mary I. teachers) were instruction in Drama, Art, Sculpture, and Music. During the last hour of the morning, all the students got together and watched movies, learned to play tennis, enjoyed the playground, or challenged each other to a friendly game of softball. The students showed off all their hard work, on the last day, when parents and friends came to Mary Institute to see their art work and watch them perform. Assist is a chance for everyone involved to grow and learn and most importantly, to make new friends.

Lunch time! A great time for the kids and volunteers to get together.

"OOh! this wets my whistle!"

Even in the middle of play, there is always work to do, Mr. Handler!

A AND B HOCKEY

A And B Hockey

The 1982 Hockey Varsities' season began in August with two hour daily practices in the grueling summer heat. Team members were busy training for their first game of the season against the visiting team from the University School. Mary I. eventually defeated the Milwaukee team 3-2. The A team, coached by Miss Gill and led by captains Kristi Kassebaum and Randi Street, ended the year with a 9 win, 8 loss record. B team captains Dorothy Dorton and Weezie Skimming also led their team through a successful season with 6 wins, 3 losses and 3 ties. The high scorers of the year were Kristi Kassebaum and Lee Barksdale of the B team. After winning their first game of the season against the team from Milwaukee, the team continued enthusiastically until the big game against arch rival, JBS. Unfortunately, despite the school spirit generated by Green/Gold Day, both A and B were defeated 2-0. The 1982 Varsities would like to extend their thanks to their loyal fans and Miss Gill whose support resulted in a hockey season of great enthusiasm and renewed pride in MI's team.

JV HOCKEY

JV Hockey

The 1982 JV Hockey Team, coached by Miss Frank, had a productive and exciting season. Beginning with Barstow weekend, the girls, under the leadership of captains Amy McFarland and Mary Hermann, paved the way for numerous victories in their upcoming games. Highlights of the season included the team's triumphs over Burroughs (3-0), Villa (7-0), and Saint Joe (3-1). All members contributed to the team's successful season; seven of the team's twelve forwards scored during the year while the defense held Mary I's opponents scoreless in seven out of ten games. All members consistantly demonstrated a great deal of energy, effort and enthusiasm, all of which resulted in an undefeated season of eight wins, no losses and two ties. This year's high scorers included Mary Hermann and Missy Hopmeier. The 1982 JV Hockey Team should be commended not only for their incredible record but also for the amount of enthusiasm and teamwork they all demonstrated.

The welcome addition of a new coach, Miss Naunhiem, and four freshman players generated much enthusiasm for the team's upcoming season. With Susan Strain as both captain and MVP. The team ended the year with a respectable record that included several signifigant wins. The team traveled to Kansas City where they triumphed over Barstow with an astonishing score of 13-2. Other noteworthy games included those against Pattonville, Principia and Burroughs, matches in which the tennis team encountered strong opposition and was disappointingly defeated despite several outstanding points. The 1982 Tennis Team's successful season was due to the dedication and hours of hard work on behalf of all team members. Congratulations for a commendable season marked by great improvement!

MILWAUKEE

September 11, 1982, a day that will live forever in the memories of all Mary I. girls. It was a day of victory for both the Mary I. and CDS teams who met early in the morning. The opponents had driven all the way from the other beer capital of the world, Milwaukee, to take on the awesome St. Louis teams. The morning activities started with the Mary I. Varsity Field Hockey team defeating the University School team by a score of 3-2. At the same time, the Varsity Tennis Team was taking on the University School team in a Wimbledon-class match. After the Mary I. games, all the girls headed to Country Day for the annual CDS/University School football game. CDS blasted the visiting school and the Gateway City rejoiced. After the football game everyone went to Andrea Zinsmeyer's for a great party with a live band and lots of food and drink(soft).

BARSTOW

Lisa Rich, Julie Jansen, Abby Alt and Carrie Weyerhaeuser were an essential part of the victorious JV Team.

The weekend of September 24 was filled with excitement for all those who traveled to Kansas City to compete against he Barstow School. The Mary I. delegation, composed of thirty hockey and ten tennis players, arrived at Barstow prepared for sports action. Despite the tedious bus ride and all the munchies consumed on the way, all three teams came through victorious. Friday night was spend doing anything but sleeping, some girls attended the Olivia-Newton John concert while others went to the parties in the vicinity. Even after a long night, the Mary I. girls proved their stamina by defeating the home team the next morning. Following the games, Barstow hosted a luncheon after which the teams once again boarded the busses to return home. All three teams would like to thank everyone who made this funfilled weekend possible.

HOCKEY GAMES

Green And Gold

The main goal of this year's Green and Gold Captains, Randi Streett, Beth Bridgewater, Susie Busch and Dorothy Dorton was to generate school spirit. An example of this was the Green-/Gold Day before the all important hockey game against JBS. The school community rose to the occasion and demonstrated their support for the hockey team by proudly sporting their school colors and by running through the halls og CDS. Green and Gold's year was very productive in that it resulted in enthusiastic support of all of MI's teams.

We are the GOLD team, mighty, mighty GOLD team!

Mother-Daughter And Student-Faculty

The Mother-Daughter and Student-Faculty Hockey Games held this fall were once again a great success. In early November, several Upper School girls energetically battled against their athletic mothers and lone father. Like the daughters, the seniors encountered strong opposition when they met select faculty members on the hockey field. As always both games ended in a tie, the score remaining unimportant amidst the fun and despite the sore muscles the next day, all involved found the hockey to be fun and exciting exercise. The seniors and daughters would like to thank those few who ventured out on the field for a fun-filled afternoon.

CHEERLEADERS

1982 was a fun filled year with a great deal of enthusiasm and little disappointment. The B team began their season early by attending cheerleading camp at Vanderbilt where the Team and captain Amy McFarland learned many new cheers to bring back to CDS fans. Varsity captain Liz Thebeau led her squad through a victorious season, including the big JBS/CDS game and state football semi-finals. The cheerleaders accompanied the Rams to Charleston, Mo., Busch Stadium and St. Charles where their team was defeated. C team captain Julie Jansen and her squad enjoyed their first year as CDS cheerleaders, learning new cheers and supporting the C team. The JBS/CDS weekend was a busy time for all three squads; they were decorating the Country Day campus, baking cookies for the players and organizing a parade of CDS fans. After this full football season, the cheerleading squads also loyally supported the basketball teams, cheering the CDS players to victory.

The Student Council 1982-83, under the guidence of its President Virginia Hanses, and its Secretary Anne Wetzel ran this year on an enthusiastic note. Every Monday, they held meetings open to the student body, as well as an open Forum each quarter. By coordinating efforts with Country Day's Council President, Willis Wang, they sponsored a barbeque for grades nine through twelve. Along with setting the stage for coordination, this was an exciting way to begin the new school year.

Many hours of hard work went into instilling the Honor Code. This particular project required much dedication, as did leading the Upper School through a very awkward adjustment period. The Council promoted the traditional Grace Hill program during the winter months. Spring projects included the Blood Drive and an unusually challenging coordinate pizza eating contest versus Burroughs. The collection of Cambell's labels was advocated in order to purchase equipment for the school. By working closely with the faculty and the administration, the Council contributed to scheduling solutions and carried out its function as a disciplinary committee. Through enthusiam and dedication, the Student Council of 1982-32 has fulfilled the high expectations of another school year.

Throughout the 1982-83 school year, the Middle School Council initiated many innovative activities, in addition to its previous undertakings. Under the guidance of sponsor's Mrs. Cushing and Miss Frank, and the leadership of officers, Leslie Armstrong(pres.), Alison Roberts(v.Pres.), Michelle Leith(sec.), and Carrie Rich(treas.), the M.S. Council raised a large sum of money and donated a substancial portion of this to a variety of charities and similar organizations.

Some of the regular M.S. Council activities included sales of choclate milk and juice during study periods, and apple carts to benefit such recipients as the World Hunger Organization and various others. The Council also adopted an American Indian boy through the "Save the Children" organization.

Seasonal activities included collecting for Unicef on Halloween, a Thanksgiving collection of food and clothing for the Highpoint Community Center, and the adoption of ten needy families from the Christmas Bureau List.

While the M.S. Council raised money primarily for charities, where was enough surplus to provide the M.S. classroom with Kleenex and a live Christmas tree was purchased and planted at the M.S. back entrance.

Susie Busch and Heather Dunaway discuss curriculum proposals

The Curriculum Committee focused on a variety of academic areas. In addition to its usual function of reviewing both Senior independent study proposals and the proposed summer reading procedures. They also explored and made recommendations in the following areas: weighting of honors and A.P. cources and revising the grading system on the new 60-100 scale. The final examination schedule was changed in an effort to make student preperation and departmental grading more equitable. One final change initiated in responce to student requests was the requirement that teachers distribute regular course syllabi.

CHRONICLE

The 1982-83 Chronicle Staff had a great year! Plans for the 1983 Chronicle began last June. A group of six girls: Dorothy Dorton, Kay Peterson, Lela Wood, Nancy Curby, Lucy McClellan, and Kathryn Elliott; attended a Missouri Interscholastic Press Association Journalism workshop at Mizzou. There many new things were learned to begin work on the book. After that trip, Mimi MacDonald and Dorothy along with Ms. Ware took a trip toTopeka, Kansas to see Josten's Yearbook plant for a better understanding of what happens to our pages once they leave our hands. At the end of June another group went to a workshop in Quincy, IL, sponsored by Jostens. With all of this training and the addition of a new room, the staff started by deciding on a theme: "FOCUS ON CHANGES" to be carried throughout the book. Besides the many changes at Mary I this year, the yearbook also has changed. We have black and white pictures on green and gold pages as well as color pictures in our introductory section. The format now has a Student Section with grades K-12 and a Faculty Section, followed by the Activities Section which is divided into Summer, Fall, and Winter. The Spring Section will be in the supplement. Another exciting part about this year's book is that the Business Staff, headed by Mimi Maechling, sold over 14 pages of ads which helped us to increase the book to 216 pages even though our budget had been cut. Because the entire staff has worked hard to contribute to this book, we are proud that we met our deadlines this year to produce the 1983 Chronicle: Focus On Changes.

The new Photography Club is made of students interested in improving their photography skills both behind the lens and in the darkroom. The combined facilities of Mary I. and Country Day now allow members to work together at developing their pictures for independent projects or for publications such as the Diary, the News, the Chronicle, and the Codasco. The first annual Winter Photo Contest proved to be a success as the pictures submitted by Mary I. and Country Day students were examples of both creativity and talent. The theme, "coordination", was especially appropriate in that it reflected the changes which have effected both Mary I. and Country Day. As their final project, Photography Club displayed their best photographs in the Mary I. hallways, providing positive proof of their noteworthy accomplishments.

For over 25 years, the CDS Russian Dancers have been performing their shouts, kicks and twirls at various churches, nursing homes and other places in the St. Louis area. The group is composed of CDS boys and girls from Mary I. and other area highschools. Under the guidance of Nadia Danet and President Jeff Ridgeway, this year has been a whirlwind of activity. Beginning in September, gruelling practices were held every Wednesday for 1 to 2 hours. The group's performances began February 5 and will end in July. The highlight of the year will be performing July 4 at the VP Fair in front of thousands of people. "Russian Dancing is a lot of fun and a good way to meet new people. In addition, it is a good way to lose weight," says dancer, Tanya Lykens.

A.F.S. has had an exciting year with a foreign exchange student at both Mary I and Country Day. Liz Burcham from Australia and Jussi Kankare from Finland have made this year a fun experience. The year started early, with Leslie Weil, President, Dora Kim, Vice President, and the faculty advisors, Mrs. Johannes and Mrs. Schaefer attending a seminar to help them organize the year ahead. The club held several potluck dinners with Country Day and at Christmas, they held a party for Liz. Throughout the year, A.F.S. was busy planning for International Week, which they held in March. At the end of the year, a farewell party, full of sad goodbyes, was held for Liz. This year, A.F.S. was very successful, having more members than in previous years. Mrs. Johannes described the members as "very active and interested"

BARBECUE

What a fantastic way to begin and end the school year — a barbecue! This fun, festive event, sponsored by the Mary I. and Country Day Student Councils, was a great success. Not only did it help to open and close the nine months of school with enthusiasm, but it increased coordination between the two schools. The responses were nothing but positive, and hopefully, this will become as much a tradition at Mary Institute as . . . yellow rolls!

CLASS TRIPS

Senior Retreat

On Sunday, October 4, the Senior class went to Babler State Park for the annual Senior Retreat. They spent a day and a night together, getting to know themselves and each other better. The Seniors met with Chris Loving, who conducted exercises, gave lectures and even told a bedtime story, which concluded an evening of watching movies, exercising, eating, and talking. In the morning, the Seniors packed up and moved to Greensfelder Park, where they attempted the obstacle course. That evening they returned home, a happy and unified Senior class.

Kampsville

The class of 1987 spent an exciting week in September at Kampsville learning about archeology. The many activities and lectures proved to be very interesting, teaching everyone many unknown facts about prehistory. Digging at the Audrey site was hard, back-breaking, but very rewarding work that made each member of the class appreciate archeology. The General Store was without a doubt the most popular place. The stories told by John White, a descendent of American Indians, were fascinating. All in all Kampsville was a rewarding experience for the entire class. Everyone returned home with a new understanding of archeology and many new friends.

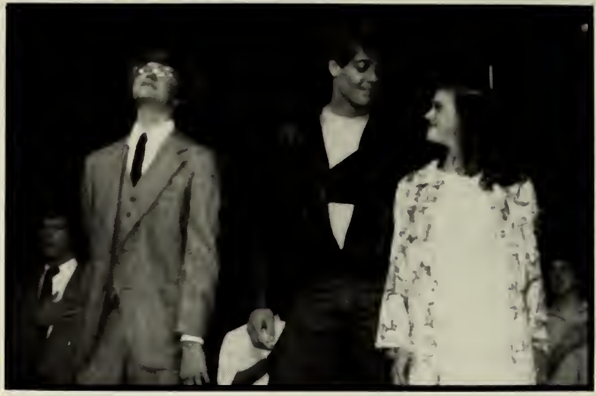
TROUBADORS

"BYE BYE BIRDIE"



This Fall's Troubadors production of "Bye Bye Birdie" was performed at St. Louis Country Day School over Thanksgiving weekend, under the fine direction of K.B. Mehl and Elson Harmon. It included a cast of students from both Mary Institute and Country Day. The plot concerns Albert Peterson (Mike Onken), the president of a music company, and a famous rock singer, Conrad Birdie (Louis Cella). In a scheme to save the company, a young member of the Conrad Birdie Fan Club is chosen to be the recipient of a much publicized kiss from Birdie, before he goes into the Army. Kim Macafee (Margaret Bull) is selected to be the lucky girl and her over-protective parents (Steve Lange and Kay Peterson) and her exteremly jealous boyfriend, Hugo Peabody (Tom Canfield) soon enter into the story. Meanwhile, a romance develops between Albert and his secretary, Rose Alvarez (Debbie Jones), despite the comical interference by Albert's mother (Lola Belle Hogeman). The chorus completed the musical with their singing and dancing. A lot of hard work went into Troubadors during the two and a half months of rehearsal. Aside from practicing three times a week, the cast and crews went out to dinner, and there were many cast parties to attend during the weekend of the performance. Everyone involved in Troubadors had a lot of fun.

"it is with great expectations that the Diary sets forth to inform, entertain, and involve its readers," said the Editor's Message in the first issue of the Diary this year.

The school newspaper has worked toward these goals with up-beat articles that aim to interest and inform the student body, and so far has been successful. The staff has grown since the beginning of the school year, under the leadership of Editor Kay Peterson and faculty sponsors Mr. Dlugosch and Dr. Biggs. Each issue is six to eight pages long, instead of the previous four, and there is more involvement from the staff. This may be partly due to the new schedule enabling the staff to meet once a week, which has improved production and unity amoung the staff.

"I think it's been a really exciting year," comments editor Kay Peterson. "We've all come together to produce a more professional high school newspaper.

Under the leadership of Sally Diggs and Helen Lee The Greenleaves staff has been busy as a bee. With pencils and pads busy at work students submit their prose, poetry and artwork. We have published two issues with continuing success, one by ourselves and one with C.D.S. With the school year having drawn to a close all our poetry, artwork and prose has been gathered together to be treasured forever.

CHAPEL COMMITTEE

The Chapel Committee was responsible for arranging special events for each Tuesday's Chapel. Having a new Chapel schedule was a new experience for the committee, but they made excellent use of the limited days they did have. They did a terrific job of entertaining as well as informing the entire student body and faculty with their Tuesday morning programs. Ellen Conant, County Councilwoman, addressed the students on the subject of her life and career. Diane Fisher, a graduate of Mary Institute, described her experiences in Russia, and Micheal De Camp discussed his experiments in Antarctica. Dr. Joyce Bruckhaus on Assertive Training, and an ever-welcome return by Leonard Slatkin were also part of the Chapel Committee's schedule. Mrs. Gould and Katie Gardener, as well as their enthusiastic committee should be congratulated on a year of informative and entertaining Chapel programs.

Traditionally, the Library Board has gone on a first of the year picnic, but this year, the members decided to try something different. They went on a hayride to which each member could invite friend. After the hayride, they had a bonfire and cooked hot dogs. Mr and Mrs. Maas recommended games which everyone tried and enjoyed. They had applecarts to supply the library with new books and different supplies for student's use. The board is planning to have another traditional picnic at the end of the year, in Queeny Park. They would like to thank Mrs. Maas for all her support and hard work to keep the group in working order. Tanya, as president, would like to thank each member for going to the library to help with different activities for the library such as sending out notices, decorating bulletin boards, and shelving books.

The Club, founded as a means to provide mathmatical help for U.S. students, consists of a group of 19 math enthusiasts who volunteered their study halls for tutoring fellow students. Although Math Club does not have regular meetings throughout the year like other activities, it remains a vital part of the Upper School. Girls showing interest and a certain degree of proficency in the field of mathmatics have added their names and free time to a list that is available for those having difficulty in their math classes.

ELSA CLUB

Elsa Club, sponsored by Miss Alexander, is offered to Middle School girls who take a particular interest in nature and wildlife. The group started the year off enthusiastically with the Walk for Wildlife. Later in the Fall, the girls took a creek walk and helped to keep the school clean with a campus cleanup. At Christmas time, they had a bake sale to benefit the Humane Society. They later had the honor of touring the Humane Society headquarters and a trip to the zoo, in the Spring, proved to be educational and fun for the whole group. All together, it has been a great year for the Elsa Club.

Carla Veron, this year's outstanding Choir president!

Under the fine direction of Mrs. Coon, the 1982-83 Choir had another successful year. The Choir is composed of eighty-three Upper School girls, each of whom have shown a talent and an interest in singing. They performed in a Fall concert for the student body and parents in Chapel; the Ceremony of Lessons and Carols at Christmas; a workshop with Mary Goetze from Indiana University; and finally, a formal evening concert in the Chapel for students and parents. The Choir officers this year were Carla Veron, President; Beth Bridgewater, Vice President; Mimi Maechling, Secretary; and Anne Livingstone, Treasurer.

MADRIGALS

Margaret Bull and Cindy Lenzini lead the procession into the Christmas Program.

Under the leadership of co-heads Andrea Zinsmeyer and Anne Wetzel, and sponsor Mrs. Coon, the Madrigals had a busy year. Madrigals is a select group of singers, chosen by audition from the Mary Institute Choir. They focus their singing on the Renaissance and Elizabethan periods. The groups first performance was in the Fall program, in which they sang with the Choir. They also performed in the Ceremony of Lessons and Carols and in the Spring concert, both with the Choir and the Country Day Glee Club. They sang for other organizations as well. The group performed at the Missouri Historical Society and the Botanical Gardens, and in the Spring, they took their annual Madrigals trip. This year they went to Chicago to sing at the Latin School. Madrigals provides a chance for girls to use their outstanding talent and to share it with others.

8TH NOTES

Following their participation in their seasonal performances-Thanksgiving, with the Glee Club, and December 17th, with the Choir in the Ceremony of Lessons and Carols,-the Eighth Notes began to prepare for their Spring Concert. This year's program included music from Rogers and Hammerstein's "Cinderella". Mrs. Blue's choreography and the costumes, which the students prepared themselves, gave the program an added dimension, as did the few solo performances.

GLEE CLUB

The Mary Institute Glee Club, which consists of fifth, sixth, and seventh graders, participated in many musical performances this year. Under the direction of Mrs. Laramie, with the help of Mimi Brown as President and Kelly Shapleigh as Vice-President, the Glee Clubbers began the year with their annual Thanksgiving program. As usual, the performance was a success, with musical instruments and festive songs. Following the Thanksgiving program, the Glee Club, along with the Eighth Notes, prepared themselves for Christmas Carolling at Frontenac Plaza, which was a standing-room-only concert. The Glee Club then participated in the annual Ceremony of Lessons and Carols, singing from the balcony of the Chapel. It then followed that during the first week of February, the Glee Club participated in a choral workshop, at Mary Institute, which was a lot of fun as well as a learning experience. The Glee Club's final performance in May, during the Middle School Fine Arts Week, wrapped up a most productive year for the entire choral group.

RECORDER CLUB

Middle School Recorder Club, sponsored by Mrs. Laramie had an exciting year filled with many performances. The club is open to interested fifth through eighth graders. They meet once a week and have different levels for those who are beginners to those who are advanced. The music department has a variety of types of recorders. They have sopranos, altos, tenors, and basses, with which they play consort style music.

Their performances started on December seventh. The sixth, seventh, and eighth grade members performed with the R B S Chorus for their chapel program. Also in December the fifth grade members showed their talents by performing Christmas music. In the spring the Recorder Club gave another performance. Throughout the year some members were accompanists for other choral performances.

IMPROVISATIONAL DRAMA CLUB

This year's Improvisational Drama Club is led by a new teacher at Mary Institute. Mr. Robert Salomone. The main purpose of this club is to create a confidence in communication. The Drama Club also helps to improve the students' concentration and listening skills. Through lectures, presentations, role playing, various excercises and workshops, and scene work, all of these skills are improved.

US DRAMA CLUB

Drama Club had a great year under the direction of Sue Blue. In the Fall, they produced "The Curious Savage" with fine performances by Jenifer Lieberman and co-heads Jane Schott and Bettie Chu. At the shows close, the Drama club was soon busy again with the Winter Play. "Good Bye My Fancy" another wonderful success for the Drama Club. Outstanding performances in this show were by Lola Belle Hogeman, Lynn Simowitz and the Head, Bettie Chu. With the approach of warm weather, the Drama Club was at it again with the One Acts in the Spring. All in all it was a wonderful year for the Theatre at Mary Institute.

2nd row: K. Roldan, Mr. Salamone

I am suppost to be in here too!

Playworkers is a working organization that holds with it a great deal of responsibility, especially for its leaders, Lucy Barsanti, Stephanie Smallwood, and Leslie Weil. Along with the backstage production work involved with each performance, the Playworkers must also be responsible for the stage management and house management of each performance. Playworkers do the building and painting of the sets, costumes, properties, lighting and sound for the school performances of The Curious Savage by John Patrick, and Goodbye, My Fancy by Fay Kanin, as well as the One-Acts which take place in the Spring. The Playworkers, sponsored by Sue Blue and Bob Salamone, continue to turn out very fine finished performances.

DANCE CLUB

The 1982-83 Dance Club has had a very successful year. This year's president, Lola Belle Hogeman, and vice-president, Virginia Hanses, presided over the group which met two days a week after school. The Upper School Dance Club's main priorities were to focus on choreography, student composition, special effects, costumes, and accompaniment selection. All of these important techniques were used in the concert given on February 10. The Upper School Dance Club also participated in May Day. The Dance Club performed by themselves, as well as with the Seniors in the traditional Ribbon Dance. Two members from the Junior class were selected as coronation pages to reveal the May Queen, who is chosen by the Senior class. This year's Dance Club was larger than in past years, and they were privileged to have among them, two members from Country Day.

The change to increased coordination even took place in the Dance Club

This was no ordinary year for the Eighth Grade Dance Club President, Trisha Cabal and Vice President, Mindy Engel were determined to make this year's group fo 32 girls the best Mary I has had for years The group enthusiastically practiced their Folk Dances for months The dedication paid off with a winning performance at May Day under the direction of Sue Beisman and Alice Walz The Dance Club should be pleased after such a hard-working, profitable year

Above Some of the girls showing off their talents in their performance for the school in mid - November

Busy, busy, busy! That is certainly the way to describe the Middle School Dance Club. Under the direction of Mrs. Beisman and Miss Walz, the energetic group accomplished a great deal. Their performance in mid-November was entertaining and enjoyable for all. Even though the dancers only met one day a week, after school, their fine program was a projection of the hard work and time the girls sacrificed The final piece of the recital will be remembered by everyone It was a mixture of modern dance and music, played by students Mrs McMillion and Mrs Laramie did a fantastic job directing Although the season was short-lived, the girls thoroughly enjoyed participating in such a professional group.

A AND B SOCCER

This year's A Soccer Team was headed by veteran players Randi Streett and Heather Brown and coached by Miss Jane Schapiro. The team's record of one win, six losses and two ties does not adequately reflect the dedication and improvement that was evident in this year's team. Nancy Bates was this season's high scorer, having ten goals to her credit. All team members thoroughly enjoyed their season and are enthusiactically looking forward to next year on A Varsity.

This season was the first for the B Soccer team, headed by captains Kristin Etling and Clare Dietz and coached by Miss Nauheim. Despite the team's losing record, all players gained valuable soccer skills and are eagerly awaiting their next season. The team had three games, the first two of which ended with no goals by Mary I. However, in their last game, MVPs, Kristin Buhl and Dawn Prather led their team to score the first goal in the history of B Soccer at Mary I.

BASKETBALL

Captains Anne Wetzel and Kay Peterson and Rich Neiman led this year's A Basketball Team through a successful year which ended with a 8 wins and 10 losses. The high point of the season was the Mary I/Burroughs game in which the team defeated the Lady Bombers by a score of 58-12. It was an especially well played game on behalf of all players. "On an average day they might have only beaten them by a score of 30-12 but they all played exceptionally well," said Coach Neiman. This incredible defeat of JBS was witnessed by a large crowd of supporters including CDS guys! The 1982 A Basketball Team showed marked improvement and made the saying "you play like a Mary I girl" absolete forever.

A little friendly advice never hurt anybody!

VARSITY CLUB

The Varsity Club is strictly an honorary organization whose members have earned their membership by participation in varsity sports. Girls earn points for each team that their on, and the only requirement besides achieveing membership on teams is that each girl participate in three different sports. Each girl is awarded a special varsity jacket upon her initiation into the club. The Varsity Club has no functional purposes as a whole.

A.A.

Being a member of A.A. requires a dedication to and some ability in athletics. Students become members by acquiring points through timing at events, being on a varsity or by being a manager for a team. Beth Bridgewater, President of A.A., initiated some new fund raising events in addition to the traditional applecarts and Valentine candy sales. A bake sale was held at CDS (yeah coordination!) and a raffle was held in the spring. The A.A. Banquet, the most important A.A. event, instead of being a formal, indoor dinner, was an outside picnic preceeded by a softball game. A.A. continues to be a way for students to exhibit their school spirit by helping to support the Athletic Department.

So How did you like freshman year? All I can say is that It went so fast. It wasn't too hard but some parts especially spanish were Boring! Math class & English have been a Blast, & we made it through another year of Mrs. Shafer. Hopefully we won't get her again! It's been a super-fantastico year and Next year should be better. Maybey we'll have some classes with the guys Next year and meet a few of those famous (or infamous) CDS guys, so At the Next dance we might know a few. Well my time is short and this page is long. This looks like it will turn into a song. (It doesn't make much sense, but it rymes)

If you think you are beaten, you are;
If you think you dare not, you don't;
If you'd like to win but think you can't,
It's almost certain you won't.

If you think you'll lose, you've lost;
For out in the world you'll find
Success begins with a fellow's will—
It's all in the state of mind.

If you think you are outclassed, you are;
You've got to think high to rise;
You've got to be sure of yourself before
You can ever win a prize.

Life's battles don't always go
To the stronger or faster man;
But soon or late, the man who wins
Is the man who thinks he can.

Wishing the Best that life has to Offer to the Class of '83.

MODEL UN

The first session of the St. Louis area Model U.N. chapter was held in the McDonnell Douglass auditorium in early October. The winter and spring sessions were held at Country Day and at various high schools in the area. Model U.N. is a simulated United Nations assembly in which delegates from St. Louis area high schools debate issues of worldwide concern such as national defense, terrorism and food supplies for underdeveloped nations. Student representatives spend most of the two day sessions reviewing resulutions and speaking on matters of economic, social and international interest.

THEATER

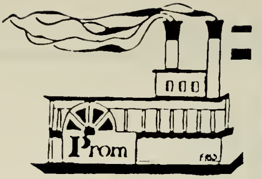
THE ONE ACT PLAYS

This spring, the Theater Studio Company 1983, performed two sets of One-Acts, the first, in April, and the second, in May. The Company is made up of the 1983 Senior Advanced Drama Class, and met during class time to rehearse during the day. The first set of One-Acts included four contrasting plays. The first, Hands Across the Sea, a light comedy, featured Liz Burcham, Michael Borucke, Tom Erwin, Scott Fitzsimmons, Caroline Weld, and Leslie Weil. Two of the plays were presented as a tribute to the late Tennesse Williams. This Property Is Condemned with Bettie Chu and Steve Lange, and The Lady of Larkspur Lotion, performed by Lola Belle Hogeman, Chris Hanaway, and Helen Lee. The final production of the evening featured John Barker in a solo performance of Passport. In May, the Theater Studio Company presented the second set of One-Acts. Although only two plays were featured in this set, they were expertly presented. Ionesco's The Bald Soprano opened that evening. It was followed by Bettie Chu and Holly Hoch's award winning Masks of Solitude.

PROM



You are cordially invited

The 1983

Mary Institute Junior Prom

on Saturday, April 23

aboard

The Huck Finn

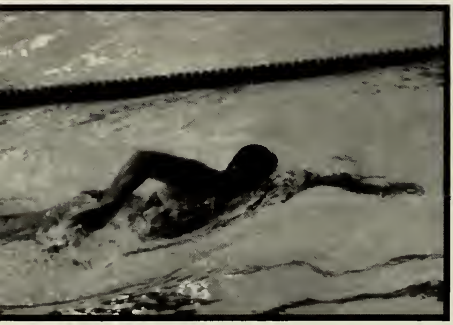
What a fox!

Sting???

On April 23, the Mary Institute Junior Prom set sail aboard the "Huck Finn". A few people had to adjust their sea legs, but they may have been due to the cocktail dinners that everyone feasted on before getting on the boat. Everyone danced to the "City Lights Jazz Band" on the boat's first floor because they 1. wanted to avoid the chaperones, 2. they couldn't fit in the bathroom, or 3. they did not want to brave the cool night on the Mississippi. The party then moved to the After Prom at Lisa Belancourt's, where people boogied to the beat of the "Rude Pets." For the survivors, the party moved down Lindell to the breakfast at Renee Rainey's home. For those few sturdy individuals who saw the sunrise, Sunday morning proved to be a beautiful and fitting end to a great Prom.

SWIMMING

The 1983 MI Gator's season ended with a bang when the team traveled to Columbia Missouri to compete in the statewide swimming competition. The MI team as a whole returned with a 5th out of 30 schools while many individual swimmers returned with well deserved medals. Kim Chaney, the 1981 and 1982 state champion in the 200 free, won first in the 100 Free and diver Beth Bridgewater, 1982 state diving champ, broke two records to earn her first place once again in the diving competition. Swimming and diving champs such as Katherine and Elizabeth Stroh, Allison Sheppard, Nancy Bates, Chrissy Simon, Julie Jansen and team co-captains Kim Chaney and Beth Bridgewater all contributed to make this year's season one of the best ever.



Kim Chaney checks with the official to see if a team member has qualified for State.

TRACK

Although the Mary I track team was inexperienced, this year's team performed brilliantly. The team consisted of Freshman and Sophomores who were led by co-captains Stacy Bourne and Julia Morris. The team's strongest events were the relay team of experienced runners and strong field events. The 400 m relay team of Evelyn Armstrong, Stacy Bourne, Sherri Smart and Julia Morris broke the school record with a time of 52.2. Evelyn Armstrong also broke the school record in the long jump with a jump of 16 feet 7 inches, which qualified her for state. The 1983 season was extremely demanding as the team was competing in class 3A against much larger schools than Mary Institute. The competition was tough, but all team members continued to work hard all season with dedication and motivation.

SOFTBALL

This year the Mary I Varsity Softball Team had its most successful season ever. The team, composed of 22 plays in grades 9, 10 and 11, practiced diligently not only during the week but also on Saturday mornings in order to improve their skills. Coach Nieman felt this extra time was needed to build up the team's softball ability as well as to prepare new pitchers for competiton against experienced teams. The highpoints of the team's season included their close game against Cardinal Ritter (8-9) and the outstanding last game of the year in which Mary I gained 11 runs to tie Lutheran North.

FIELD DAY/SR. HOCKEY

To end the year on a coordinate foot, MI Seniors and those CDS Seniors brave enough to face the challenge participated in the now annual Senior hockey game. Although the skills demonstrated were less than exemplary, a fun time was had by all and the adventurous CDS boys were not too badly beaten. After this successful endeaver by Student Council, A.A. sponsored yet another funfilled athletic event. On May 25th classes were dismissed and the whole school turned out for Field Day. The eventful day of tennis, class relays, volleyball, ping pong and track events proved to be most enjoyable to all who attended.

CLASS DAY/CRY DAY

Seniors and faculty alike spent many hours preparing to entertain the school by imitating each other as well as the rest of the school on Class Day and Cry Day. Several underclassmen and faculty found themselves being portrayed as the seniors, costumed appropriately, poked fun at everyone. Virginia Hanses, as Mrs. Gilbert, definitely stole the show. Following the faculty performance on Cry Day, the seniors sang their class song, and in turn were sung to and given flowers by their little sisters and the Juniors. Both days represent tradition at its best.

The seniors take revenge on the M.I. Faculty.

Hi Christy!
Well we've had an interesting year haven't we! I guess you can say we've lived through it! I can't wait till next year! Being the big people of the study hall!

if you have done your best . . .
if you have
given your all . . .
and yet have
not succeeded . . .
at least you have
not failed

MUCH SUCCESS
TO THE CLASS
OF 86
~~AND 88~~

SID AND SUSIE
COOPER

See ya later!
Love Always!

Dear christy,
well sometimes it seems these years have flown by, other times it feels like a million years!!!! well we'll both be cruising this summer. Alert the hospitals. it was fun having you in English you always had the answers. Have A good summer I know you will

Luv,
Susan

Good Luck to next year's staff!

You are a unique person
thus ~~#~~ May you
have a unique & unusua summer. I'm going to watch my ~~cat~~ grazy cat graze all summer. This is just such a deep message - Well
I don't know this is about as deep of a message as can be. What will life be w/out our favorite man & culture class.
May fly (nymph) Don't bother me!

Dear Christy,
I am so glad
I got to know
you better this year
especially since you are in the Upper School
I'm sure I'll work w/ the little ones at church. I really enjoy working with you because you know how to handle the kids, you probably better than me of course! I hope you do a good job in your freshman year, and I'll see you next year when I'm a SENIOR! YAY!
Have a great summer (if you survive after exams)!
Love,
Anne

Christy,
I'm so glad I got the chance to know
you. You're a really sweet person & I wish you much success next year
(& the year after etc.) Be happy & stay sweet. God Bless you.
Love ya,
Vanessa.

Christy-
I'm glad we
that I hope
to get to know you better! Call me this summer. Have a great summer! You deserve it
(we all do after this year)!
Have a great summer.
